(i) Power to grant a licence

The Chief Inspector has power to grant to a facility a licence to repair flexible reeling, trailing and feeder cables for use in a hazardous zone of a NSW underground coal mine as detailed below, either conditionally or unconditionally; or to refuse an application for such a licence. (Clause 154 of the Coal Mines Health and Safety Regulation 2006 (the Regulation).

(ii) Commencement and duration of licence

This licence takes effect on and from date of granting and remains in force for five years or until it is revoked, varied or amended (clause 156, 158 and 160, the Regulation).

(iii) Effect of licence

A person must not carry on the business of a licensable activity at or in connection with a coal operation, otherwise than in accordance with a licence relating to that activity (Clause 150 (1) of the Regulation).

A person must not contravene the conditions of a licence or direct or allow another person to contravene the conditions of a licence (clause 150 (3) of the Regulation).

This approval and the requirements under its conditions do not limit –

- (a) any obligations imposed on the mine manager or a mine electrical engineer by clause 19 (Electrical Engineering Management Plan) of the Coal Mines Health and Safety Regulation 2006 or any other provision of the Coal Mines Health and Safety Act 2002 or, the Occupational Health & Safety Act 2000 or the regulations under either of those Acts; or
- (b) any obligations imposed on the mine owner or any other person by any provision of those Acts or regulations.

The Chief Inspector has the power to grant to a facility a licence to repair flexible reeling, trailing and feeder cables of a type referred to in clause 19 (1)(e)(ii) for use in a hazardous zone as detail below, either conditionally or unconditionally; or to refuse an application for such a licence (refer to Clause 154 of the NSW Coal Mines Health and Safety Regulation 2006).

Applicants will be assessed, by DPI Inspectors of Electrical Engineering and/or Mine Safety Officer-Electrical Engineering, against DPI Technical Reference EES-007 Licensing of Cable Repair Facilities for Reeling, Trailing and Flexible Feeder Cables used in NSW Underground Coal Mine Hazardous Zones and AS/NZS 1747 Reeling, trailing and feeder cables used in mining-Repair, testing and fitting of accessories. Applications will only be accepted from quality accredited workshops that have at least one cable repair signatory employed full time at the site.
